1. You are the God who made this world, You are the truth that all may find.
 2. You are the hope that we proclaim, You are the path we choose to tread
 3. You are the love that knows no end, You are the perfect sacrifice
 4. You are the joy that makes us smile, You are the comfort in our pain

You are the touch which heals our wounds, The source of life for human kind.
 And if we hunger on the way, You are the food by which we're fed.
 For broken lives weighed down by sin, You are the One who paid the price.
 And as we lay all else aside, For all we lose you are our gain.
